

PETRONAS OPENS FIRST SERVICE STATION

In a quite ceremony General Manager, Domestic Marketing Division, Encik Salim Abdul Rahman cuts the ribbon declaring the station open for business while Sales & Planning Manager, Encik Nik Hilmi Abdul Rahman (left) looks on.

On a quite note, the first-ever PETRONAS Service Station in Malaysia commenced business in the clear morning of last July 3.

Earlier that morning, the sky had darkened and there was a heavy downpour spelling out a good omen, for the falling of rain during an auspicious occasion is often referred to by the Malays as "hujan rahmat".

The first of a network of service stations to be set up by PETRONAS throughout Malaysia, the brand-new station marks the beginning of PETRONAS' actual participation in the "downstream activities" of the Malaysian petroleum industry.

PETRONAS' earlier entry into 'downstream activities' was in the form of skid-tank stations set up throughout the country as a temporary measure to overcome the diesel shortage caused by the Middle-East oil crisis and Iran—Iraq War.

Located at Taman Tun Dr. Ismail, Kuala Lumpur the modern and spacious station is fully-equipped with four electronic pumps, a lubrication bay with two electrical hoists and a waste-oil receiver to minimise pollution.

It also markets a whole new range of high quality PETRONAS automotive lubricants including Lubram (multi-grade engine oil) and Sprinta (two-stroke motorcycle oil).

General Manager of the Domestic Marketing Division, Encik Salim Abdul Rahman officiated at the opening ceremony witnessed by PETRONAS officials from relevant departments and the consultants and architects involved with the construction of the station.

Ustaz Ismail Kamus of the Federal Territory Religious Department (Pejabat Agama Wilayah) later prayed for blessings on the brand new station and its smooth running.

Preliminary reports indicate that the station is doing a brisk business.

NADA PETRONAS wishes the staff of the new station every success. ☞

The new spacious and modernly-equipped PETRONAS service station all-set to serve the public.

Customers can be assured that their cars will be cared for at the PETRONAS service station.